Profile

Investigative analyst in training with a criminology degree and hands-on training in open-source intelligence, link analysis (i2 Analyst's Notebook) and geospatial crime mapping (ArcGIS). My work so far — case work, incident investigation and program leadership — has all depended on the same habits: gather information from every available source, keep careful contemporaneous records, and turn what you find into a clear written product someone can act on. I'm looking to bring that to intelligence, investigations or analytical roles in the public or private sector.

Experience

Head of English / Teacher Alps Education · Richmond, BC

Sep 2025 – present

- Lead English programming across K–7, including curriculum design and direct instruction in a mixed-grade classroom.
- Maintain accurate, current assessment records and program documentation for 80+ students to organizational and privacy standards.
- Prepare reports for leadership that synthesize assessment and program data into clear recommendations.
- First point of contact for parents and staff on program questions.

Summer Case Worker The Salvation Army Boundless · Vancouver, BC

Jun – Aug 2025

- Gathered and verified information from multiple sources — internal databases, demographic records and partner consultations — to assess client needs and document decisions.
- Kept contemporaneous case records for 200+ client files in Link2Feed, in line with policy and privacy requirements.
- Analyzed service-utilization data to identify trends and anomalies, and wrote structured summaries with recommended actions for leadership.
- Coordinated information exchange with 10+ community partners under confidentiality protocols.

International Teacher & Health and Safety Lead English First · Fuzhou, China

May 2024 – May 2025
